The Republicans of the Second Congressional district have nominated J. S. Rowell, of Beaver Dam, for Congress. He is a prominent manufacturer and is popular in the district.

The Democratic leaders of Massachusetts are afraid that Ben Butler will decline the nomination for Governor. They can't bleed anybody so well as they can Butler, provided he accepts.

The Republican papers in New York which are growling about the way Folger was nominated, can spend their time more profitably by going to work and help elect the Republican candidate.

Senator Edmunds, of Vermont, refused to accept an invitation to speak in Pennsylvania for General Beaver. He said he wasn't doing campaign work this fall. Because Mr. Edmunds can rest in perfect security, politically, he should not show an indifference as to the result of the elections in other States.

From what Dr. Martin has done in Janesville in the way of raising peaches, and the success of Mr. Leighton, of Palmyra, in the same direction, there are some strong indications that Wisconsin will soon become a peach-growing State. Mr. Leighton, seven years ago planted a stray peach seed, and this year gathered a bushel and a half of fine peaches from the tree.

Mr. John G. Thomson, who bought so much liquor for the Garfield funeral train, and then invited a lot of Democrats to join him in drinking it, is managing the campaign in Ohio for the free whisky and no Sunday party. They have some 24,000 of a Republican majority to overcome, and which the Democrats may gain some in the large cities, they will lose in the country, so that Ohio will go Republican beyond the possibility of a doubt.

The National Temperance Advocate lays down a doctrine which the Prohibitionists of Wisconsin should accept as their creed, and vote accordingly.] It is this:

The great mass of Prohibitionists will vote with the party which seems most likely to give them the law, inside the old political parties if they can, outside if they must.

According to this doctrine, proclaimed by the official organ of the Prohibition party of the United States, the Prohibitionists are not justified in supporting Mr. Blackman in preference to Mr. Williams.

The Chicago papers have frequently withiu the past two or three weeks published statements that there is a large deficit in the treasury of Milwaukee. The Journal of Tuesday said: "The financial affairs of the city of Milwaukee are in a deplorable state. There is a shortage of $480,000, caused by overdraughts and mismanagement." The Republican Sentinel says this statement is false, and makes the assertion that the city is paying its bills as fast as they mature. It would please the Chicago papers very much to hear of some calamity overtaking the treasury of Milwaukee.

It is now charged by the friends of Governor Cornell that Secretary Folger secured the nomination for Governor through fraud. Fraudulent proxies were issued by the Stalwarts whereby he gained control of the Convention. Had it not been for these frauds, the result, it is claimed, would have been otherwise. Secretary Folger is a splendid man, and although he is in bad company, the Republicans should stop quarrelling over the past and go to work and elect him. It will take perfect harmony and the most faithful work to keep the Democrats from gaming the election in New York this year.

A great many wild statements have been published in regard to the cost of the liquors consumed in the United States annually, but the New York Tribune has taken considerable pains to gather some statistics on the subject, which may be of interest to the public. The amount of beer consumed is reckoned at $480,000,000, of whisky, $313,000,000, and the wines will add enough to make the total cost of the liquors consumed something like $800,000,000. This is about $100,000,000 more than the entire sum raised by taxes of all kinds—national, State, county, city, town, and school district.

The State Journal, in discussing the Congressional question in this district says: "As Mr. Williams' majority in 1880 was 6,861, the prospect for Mr. Winans cannot be a flattering one. The exchange in the district of Jefferson county in the place of Waukesha might naturally effect a reduction of a few hundred votes, as Jefferson, though giving Mr. Caswell, two years ago, a majority of 1,207, might possibly be good for a thousand majority on the other side—a reduction which can be spared, and still leave Mr. Williams impregnable. That there has been any great change in political sentiment in the district for the past two years, there are no rational grounds to believe."

The College of Physicians and Surgeons, of Chicago, was opened last Tuesday under the most favorable circumstances. One hundred and eight students have already entered the college, which was double the number expected by the faculty. The new building is one of the best of the kind in the West. It is of the Queen Anne style of architecture, and cost upward of $75,000. The faculty is exceptionally strong, as the professors rank among the ablest and most experienced physicians and surgeons in this country. Dr. Henry Palmer, of this city, is professor of Operative Surgery, Clinical Surgery, and Surgical Pathology, and will deliver one lecture each week—on Wednesdays—going to Chicago in the morning and returning in the evening.

Early next week the special committee of five, appointed to investigate into the Keyes-Hazelton difficulty, will meet at Madison, and will hear both sides of the case. It has been said that the State Committee is opposed to Keyes on general principles, and desire him to withdraw, but this is said to be a mistake. The Committee, like all other sober-minded Republicans in the district and out of it, look upon the situation there with earnest solicitude, and will use their best efforts to bring about an honorable settlement of the matter. They want right to win, and want harmony in the party and a Republican victory next fall. The Committee will recommend no movement that will be unjust to any one, but will endeavor to secure an honorable and a satisfactory settlement of the differences between the two candidates.

According to programme, the Democrats in the Elkhorn Convention, endorsed the nomination of the Hon. John Winans for Congress. The Independents and the Democrats are now united in a common cause—to defeat Mr. Williams—but while their enthusiasm may seem unbounded, they haven't that hope of success which gives them the courage to boast. Mr. Winans will run as well as any other Democrat could possibly run, but the outlook can't give him much encouragement when he coolly looks at the 4,000 or 5,000 Republican majority in the district. There may be some satisfaction in running for Congress when the chances for success are six or seven out of ten, but when it is brought down to one in fifty, the less hope indulged in and the less money put in the canvass, the better it will be for the Independent-Democratic candidate.

THE CONGRESSIONAL LIQUOR BILLS.

The fourth resolution of the Independent Democratic platform, conceived at Delavan by the Independents, and fostered by the Democrats at Elkhorn, reads as follows:

The presence and use by Congressmen, of liquors at the funeral of the late President Garfield was a disgrace to us as a Nation; and the passage of the bill by Congress appropriating five thousand dollars from the National Treasury in payment therefor—Charles G. Williams voting in favor—was an outrage on common decency.

There has been a great deal said about the liquor consumed on the funeral train of the lamented President Garfield. That it was an outrage on common decency, there is no doubt, but the responsibility of that outrage should be clearly fixed before condemnatory resolutions in regard thereto, are adopted. It is true that Mr. Williams voted for the bill which paid the expense of that disgrace, but let us look into the matter and get at the facts as to how the bill was made and how it was paid. Congressman Nelson Dingley, of Maine, ought to be good authority on the question, and when asked who was responsible for the payment of the scandalous liquor bill on the funeral train, he said:

When President Garfield died the Democratic sergeant-at-arms of the last House, Hon. John G. Thompson (now chairman of the Democratic State Committee of Ohio), telegraphed to such members of the last Democratic Congress as he pleased to join the the train for Cleveland which he had provided. Thompson purchased liquors and other refreshments, which he put on board one of the cars, and on the trip more or less of Thompson's friends were invited to partake of the same. A large part of the members did not know they were on board. Before the affair was publicly known, Thompson was paid seven thousand dollars for the expenses of the train, and it was not until he had received the money, that he had bought liquors with the public money.

This places the responsibility of contracting the funeral-train liquor bills upon Democratic shoulders, and no one has good reason to dispute the statement of Congressman Dingley in this regard. If the Elkhorn Convention had known that John G. Thompson had bought the liquor, and that his Democratic friends consumed the the greater portion of it, probably it would not have been in so great haste to foster that part of the platform which was brought forth at Delavan.

EARTHQUAKE.

The World Trembled Yesterday Morning from St. Louis to Vincennes.

At St. Louis There Were Eleven Distinct Movements of the Earth.

A Learned Professor Gives His Views, but Does Not Blame the Comet.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 28.—At 4:18 a. m. yesterday the rumbling report of an earthquake was heard at various points throughout the city. Those who were awake at the time marked the sequence of the distinct noises with ease, while thousands were awakened from sound slumbers by the perturbation. The noise and disturbance was uniform in this vicinity, causing houses to shake for several seconds. In the central portion of the city the occurrence was closely observed by many persons. At that hour the phenomenon was first noticed by a rolling, oven noise, followed by twelve distinct vibrations, each removed nearly a second from the other, and beginning with one shock more violent than any of the succeeding eleven. During the progress of this rolling disturbance china rattled on the mantels, windows clattered in their casements, and the movements of the furnishings of whatnots and curiosity-tables were plainly discernible in many houses. The disturbance was over fifteen seconds in duration together. The general extent of the shock was first ascertained through the police stations by telegraphic communication by means of the boxes.

Prof. Nipher, of the Washington university, has paid special attention to the phenomena of earthquakes, and now has a very valuable book of maps prepared by himself. Concerning the late shock Prof. Nipher said: "I did not hear it myself, but judge from reports that it was between 4:15 and 4:18 this morning."

"Have you any idea of its extent?"

"No, not yet. I intend to make inquiries at the railroads, and send out circulars to many of my correspondents, and in the course of a few weeks I will probably be able to give you an idea of last night's earthquake."

"Was this shock expected?"

"Well, no; you can't say that an earthquake is expected, exactly, but all along the line of the Mississippi and Missouri rivers these shocks may be looked for every two or three years. The last disturbance of which I have a map occurred in November 1878. That covered an area of 60,000 square miles, extending from Tuscaloosa, and from northeast of St. Louis to Clarksville, Ark. This had two centers of disturbance, one shock beginning near Glasgow, Mo., at 11:23 p. m. The shock was felt at Little Rock, Ark., at 12:13 p. m., so that it was nearly an hour in passing over. Another one occurred November 15, 1877, at Yankton. This was as severe as the one in 1878. There was another shock down near New Madrid, but that was only a slight one. I could never get anybody that was positive about it. A draughtsman in New Madrid who was accustomed to those phenomena, told me that he was working on a plan at the time, and felt the shock, but he was not positive. It was a very slight one, however."

"What is the explanation of these phenomena?"

"Well, it is really only conjecture. An earthquake acts like water after dropping something into it—the disturbance gradually widens out from the center or centers of disturbance just as the wavelets do in water. It is caused by the progress in the formation of the interior of the earth, and is the result of cooling or heating—that is, expanding or contracting. The phenomenon of earthquakes and volcanoes can be seen in a kettle of cooling molten metal. The expansion of the metal frequently forces up mounds in the surface. In earthquakes it may be miles from the surface of the earth where the disturbance occurs first. In the western country they can always be looked for along the rivers I mention.

No account was taken of the occurrence at the signal-service headquarters. Special telegrams from Marine, Salem, Flora, Pana, Dupuois, Belleville, Alton, Carlisle, Highland, and other points in western Illinois report that the phenomenon was experienced there.

VINCENNES, Ind., Sept. 28.—A very perceptible earthquake was felt here yesterday morning at about 5 o'clock, which lasted fully thirty seconds, alarming many of our citizens who were awake and noticed it. The shock was so severe in Washington, a town eighteen miles east of this city, that it is said the church bells were set to ringing. Citizens from other neighboring towns report that the shock was felt throughout this part of the state.

JIM CUMMINGS.

The Notorious Comrade of the James Brothers Thought to be Under Arrest.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 28.—Jim Cummings, one of the most notorious members of the the James gang of train robbers, is supposed to be safely caged in jail at Princeton, Caldwell county, and Missouri officers have been sent there to complete the identification when requisition papers will be sent after him. Not very long since Gov. Crittenden received a communication from Caldwell county stating that an individual supposed to be Cummings had lately located in that region, and requesting information bearing upon his identity. The request was promptly complied with, and the arrest was made on last Tuesday. The prisoner answers the description in almost every particular.

FAVORING COALITIONS.

President Arthur Speaking Decidedly for Such Measures and for New York.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—There have been many contradictory statements made regarding the supposed attitude of the administration towards coalition movements in the south, and especially the one in North Carolina. The following paragraph, which appeared in The National Republican this morning, settles the controversy. The publication, as will be seen, is not made upon speculations or rumors, but upon open and positive declarations by the president:

"Judge Settle of North Carolina, and Wm. P. Canaday, the Republican candidate for congress in the Third district in that state, returned from New York yesterday, on their way home. While in New York they called upon the president, in company with George C. Gorham, editor of The National Republican. The president, being told that representations had been made to the effect that he was indifferent to the success of the coalition ticket, replied with much emphasis and energy that it was wholly unfounded, and that, on the contrary, he was most earnest in the hope of success. He held it to be the ticket of the Republicans, duly indorsed by the Republican convention, and hoped that every Republican would yield it his support. The president was very earnest and said he desired his approval of the coalition to be plainly understood. He expressed great confidence in the success of the Republican ticket in New York."

YORKTOWN CENTENNIAL.

Litigation Growing Out of the Celebration of the Surrender of Lord Cornwallis.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 28.—In the circuit court of Baltimore city a bill was filed to-day by Geo. Bradley S. Johnson in behalf of the American Bank-note company, of New York, and others against the Yorktown Centennial association and others for a receiver of the rights, franchises, and property of the Yorktown Centennial association, and for an injunction against said association, its attorneys or agents, interfering with said association. The bill charges that the Yorktown Centennial association was formed for the purpose of celebrating the surrender of Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown in October, 1781; that it created large debts and acquired considerable property, and that its officers and managers are taking no steps to collect its assets or pay its debts, but that certain creditors are pressing their claims to judgment so as to obtain priority, and thus swoop all the assets, to the injury of the general creditors. The court appointed Bradley S. Johnson, of Baltimore, receiver.

A Murderous Riot.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 28.—A desperate fight occurred here about 10 o'clock last night in one of the lower wards of the city, just after the polls for the primary elections for the nomination of Democratic congressional candidates had closed. The trouble grew out of a difficulty about the election, and about twenty men were engaged in the row. Pistols and knives were freely used, and Robert Boss, aged 20 years, was shot through the breast and instantly killed. Another man was badly wounded, and several others received severe blows on the head, and were more or less hurt. Several parties have been arrested on suspicion of firing the fatal shot. The victim has for some years been a notorious character, and had just served a term in the penitentiary for a murderous attack on a man during an election trouble several years ago. A singular fact in connection with the family of which he was a member is that he is the fourth one who has died a violent death. One member of the family was killed in a riot, another in an election fight, and a third committed suicide.

The Hoffman Trial.

LINCOLN, Ill., Sept. 28.—In the Hoffman trial a number of witnesses were introduced to prove that Miss Robinson had admitted that Teddy Franks, the late Bloomington jailer, was the father of the child. Dr. Townsend, the Springfield physician who attended Miss Robinson in childbirth, testified that she had represented herself to him as a widow, and that he never received any money from Hoffman for caring for the girl, and no request from him to care for her. Hoffman himself took the the stand and made a sweeping denial of every charge preferred. The conference is practically through its work, and is waiting for the decision of the Hoffman committee before adjourning.

Nebraska Anti-Monopolists.

HASTINGS, Neb., Sept. 28.—An Anti-Monopolist convention met here yesterday to nominate a full state ticket, with an attendance of about four hundred delegates, and will to-day hold a congressional convention to nominate congressmen from this district in opposition to James Laird, nominated here yesterday by the Republican congressional convention.

The convention to-day passed a strong anti-monopoly platform, denouncing railroad encroachments, asking for a reduction of the tariff, and for the adoption of postal savings bank, telegraph, and telephone systems. E. P. Ingersoll, of Jefferson, president of the State Farmers' Alliance, was nominated for governor.

Catholic Colonization Society.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The Catholic colonization association held a meeting here yesterday, among those present being Bishops Spalding, Ireland, and Fitzgerald. The lands of the association have practically all been sold, and immigration will next be directed toward St. Patrick's colony in Arkansas. Father Nugent, a noted temperance advocate of Liverpool, stated his plans for colonization in Canada and the United States.

THE NEXT HOUSE.

Democratic Estimates—Parceling Out the Places.

But the Republicans Say They Will Hold Fast All They've Got.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The Star says the Democratic congressional campaign committee has very flattering reports from Ohio, some of the leaders in that state claiming that the Democrats will not only carry the state, but will elect seven, certain, and possibly ten members of congress. Since the nomination of Cleveland in New York by the Democrats, and the admission by the New York Republican newspapers that his candidacy is a strong one, the committee is advised that the gains in the congressional delegation will be made in that state. The same advices are received from Pennsylvania. These flattering reports inspire Secretary Thompson, of the committee, with an abounding confidence that the Democrats will certainly have a majority in the Forty-eighth Congress, which will enable the party to control its organization. Certain it is that other leading Democrats are of the same opinion, and there is already speculation as to who will be elected speaker, clerk and sergeant-at-arms.

For the speakership, of course, ex-Speaker Randall will be a candidate. Should Pennsylvania go Democratic this fall it would place him in a very commanding position to win. His chief competitor will be Hon. J. G. Carlisle, of Kentucky, whom it is thought will get the bulk of the southern vote. The nomination of ex-Clerk of the House Adams by the Democrats of the Ninth district of Kentucky puts him out of the race for the clerkship, as he will no doubt be elected to congress. The most prominent candidate spoken of for the place is Representative Martin, of Delaware, who will be strongly supported if the speakership goes to a candidate west of the Alleghanies. Mr. Martin declined a congressional renomination. Should Ohio go Democratic, ex-Sergeant-at-Arms Thompson will be a candidate for his old place. He is managing the pending Ohio canvass, and if he succeeds in winning the state his claim for his old place will no doubt receive just consideration.

To look on the other side of the picture, the officers of the Republican congressional committee laugh at the idea of the Democrats securing the next house of representatives. They are willing to concede a slight loss in Ohio, but feel confident they will more than overbalance it by expected gains in the south.

ENOCH ARDEN MEYER.

He Disturbs the Serenity of His Old Home, and Causes a Tragic Ending to an Otherwise Emotional Love Story.

ERIE, Penn., Sept. 28.—An Enoch Arden tragedy was enacted here yesterday. Mrs Meyer is a doctress on the "yarb" plan, and seven years ago her husband, disliking the attentions paid his wife by Frederick Grubb, a boarder, arose in the night and left his home forever, first firing the house and nearly cremating Mrs. Meyer and the boarder. Mr. Grubb, the boarder, had a wife and seven children, and his attentions to Mrs. Meyer had the effect of causing them to pack up and quit for Cleveland. Thus the grass widow and grass widower were left to solace each other. Grubb wanted to marry the "yarb" doctress, but she declined, hoping her husband would return. Year after year passed, and Grubb continued to press his suit, urging that Meyer and his own wife must be dead.

Wearied with Grubb's persistent wooing, and having given up all hope of Enoch, the doctress consented to become Mrs. Grubb four weeks ago. A few days after the wedding Meyer returned to claim his wife, now sixty-four years old. Grubb resented the intrusion, and the first husband was disposed of by being clapped in the alms-house. This interruption of the honeymoon caused a rupture between the bride and bridegroom, and things became so lively for Grubb that he decided this morning to divorce himself with a revolver. He blew out his brains, and died instantly.

Poking Fun at Wolseley.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The Egyptian war is lightly treated by some of the London journals, notably Truth, which ridicules alike the dispatches of Gen. Wolseley and of the professional correspondents. The general's reports are called "sentimental twaddle," and attention is called to his account of an engagement in which there was "heavy firing for several hours," the troops "behaving admirably under a hail of bullets"—and the result was one man killed and twelve wounded.

Costly Testimony.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—It is estimated that it cost the government at least $200 each to take the testimony of every witness before the tariff commission. There is no trouble about a deficiency in the accounts of the commission, however, as money enough was appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated to pay all the expenses.

The Markets.

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Under the influence of liberal receipts, fine weather, and lower prices in Liverpool, wheat opened weak, and the market was demoralized; declined 3@3½c on cash and this week's options, and 1c on October and deferred deliveries, and prices were irregular; the impression prevails that the corner on September is bursted, and that September and cash will settle to the price of October; the market closing at 1 p. m. at ½c over the lowest prices of the day on the options. Corn opened weak, and, although the receipts were not quite so large, the fine weather caused a weak feeling, prices fell 2¼c on September and 1½@1¾c on the October and November options, and the market was demoralized, closing a shade over the lowest prices. Oats weak and future options dull at a decline of 1½c. Mess pork weak, declined 40c ₮ brl on cash and 10@12½ on the long options, advanced 10c on October, recovered the decline on the longer options and closed steady at the recovery. Lard opened weak and 10c lower on October and November, but owing to a rumor that a corner was being engineered prices advanced 25c, and closed firm; the longer options also recovered their early decline, and closed firm at the improvement. Meats were scarce and transactions so small that it is difficult to quote prices.

CLOSING PRICES.

DUEL IN CHURCH.

A Sanctuary at Hampton Cross-Roads, Va., the Scene of a Bloody Duel.

One of the Participants Killed and the Other Mortally Wounded--An Imperturbable Parson.

WYTHVILLE, Va., Sept. 28.—During the season of the Baptist association at Hampton cross-roads, yesterday, two young men under the influence of liquor began a pistol combat in the church, causing a panic among the worshipers. Levi Bryson was fatally shot by Jerry Cox, but succeeded in fatally shooting Cox. Both died in the church. Many were injured by being trampled during the panic.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

WYTHEVILLE, Sept. 28.—The Baptist church at Hampton Cross-Roads was the scene of a terrible affray Sunday last, during service. Jerry Cox and Levi Bryson became involved in a quarrel, and both drew pistols and fired wildly. The audience arose and made a rush for the doors, amid a scene of indescribable excitement. The air was filled with the shrieks of frightened men, women and children. The minister during the melee was the only one that retained his presence of mind, and remained in the pulpit calmly but energetically moving his lips in addressing the audience, to whom his words were inaudible. The firing continued for some time, and several bullets passed over the minister's head, who, however, paid no heed to them. Meanwhile several men were tugging away at both Cox and Bryson, appealing loudly to them to desist from their terrible work, but were all shoved aside, and the firing continued. Bryson was finally shot in the breast, and fell mortally wounded upon one of the benches, but was sufficiently conscious to raise himself and fire a parting volley at his opponent, who fell dead without speaking a word.

OPTIONS.

Yesterday's Gossip from the Chicago Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—It was announced on 'change that the opinion of the directors given some time ago on what constituted a proper delivery of No. 2 wheat was not binding upon members, and that any disputes that might arise would probably come before the arbitration committee for decision. The directors some time ago decided that in making a tender of warehouse receipts on sales of No. 2 wheat all the receipts should either call for No. 2 spring or No. 2 red winter wheat. This interpretation of the rule having caused some confusion, the directors wish it understood that it was merely an expression of their opinion.

Corwith and Law were supposed to be unloading November corn yesterday. For several days past the boys have suspected a deal was brewing in this future. Throwing over so much November corn weakened the market for September and October. Cash corn also went down, and shippers who have hitherto said it was too high for them to handle may now come to the front and take hold of it.

Fairbank is understood to have the lard deal for next month, and "Hutch" the pork for October and November.

A special effort is being made to bring in wheat to fill September contracts.

Affairs at Cairo.

CAIRO, Sept. 28.—The ministers yesterday agreed upon three decrees which the khedive will sign to-day. The first decree institutes a special commission for the prosecution of all acts of rebellion committed by the military or civilians. The commission will consist of nine members and will be under the presidency of Ismail Bey. The second orders a court-martial with eight members, Reouf Pasha presiding, to be held in Cairo, and that it shall give judgment according to the military code, without appeal, in all cases submitted to the above named commission. The third directs the assembling in Alexandria of another court-martial to try all cases submitted by the tribunals recently appointed in Alexandria and Tantah. The proceedings of both courts-martial will be public, and the accused will be permitted to employ counsel. The khedive will shortly issue a decree granting amnesty to all officers from captain downward engaged in the rebellion, excepting those who participated in the riots, or joined the army since the beginning of the campaign.

Gen. Wolseley is no better. The British troops began to return home after the review Saturday.

Arabi Pasha's disease has left him a mere wreck.

Shot by an Editor.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—William Dyniewicz, the publisher and editor of The Gazetta Polska, a Polish weekly of this city, yesterday shot and killed an unknown man, who was attempting to force an entrance into his residence and business place, corner of Noble and Bradley streets, and who in a drunken frenzy attacked Dyniewicz and his family with a heavy piece of timber and threatened to kill them all. The unknown man's rage was caused by Dyniewicz insisting on his leaving the steps of his printing office, where the deceased at the beginning of the fracas lay in a drunken stupor. After the shooting Dyniewicz went to the Rawson street police station and gave himself up, and was placed under arrest.

Kinsella on Kelly.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—George Alfred Townsend says in The Tribune: Thomas Kinsella, long an antagonist of Tammany hall, said to me a few days ago of John Kelly: "That man has the courage of his convictions. He is sincere. Instead of being the brute he is represented in the cartoons, he is as mild as a woman. He has more culture than almost any man of his opportunities. There is an old devout Irish Catholic element, believing in divine government on the earth, that will stick to Kelly as long as he is in politics, feeling that he is conscientious and lives in the fear of God."

Business Failures.

Duncan A. Grant, a lace importer of New York, has made an assignment, giving preferences for $27,000. Joseph Ehrlich, a clothier at Indianapolis, transferred his establishment to a creditor, and special attachment proceedings have been commenced by other sufferers, who allege fraudulent acts between the bankrupt and his assignee. The collapse of H. & H. N. Arnold, merchants at Greenville, Ohio, is also announced, their liabilities being $23,000.

A Bad Year for Circuses.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—A writ of replevin was issued by the circuit court yesterday, and executed by the sheriff, against the circus outfit, tents, poles, seats, etc., known as DeHaven & Meyers' circus. The writ was issued to satisfy a claim of William Armstrong against Samuel E. Stickney, for $900. Mr. James Latham, Armstrong's attorney, says this is the fourth circus he has levied upon this season.

Brewster Cameron.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The agent of the department of justice, who was recalled from San Francisco to meet the charge of attempted bribery made by Foreman Dickson, of the star route jury, has arrived in Philadelphia. Mr. Cameron proceeded direct from San Francisco to Philadelphia. The Times, of that city, says: "He was notified by a telegram from Ex-District Attorney W. W. Ker to come to see him before proceeding to Washington, and in obedience to instructions he called at Mr. Ker's residence yesterday afternoon, and remained in conference until last evening. Mr. Cameron has prepared a full statement of the incidents upon which Dickson is supposed to have based his allegations of attempted bribery, and it is a complete denial, he says, of such an intent. Mr. Ker and Mr. Cameron, when interviewed, declined to make public at present the facts in the case. 'It would not only be premature,' said Mr. Ker, 'but a discourtesy to the attorney-general, to whom Mr. Cameron is to make his statement at the earliest opportunity. He will leave Philadelphia either to-morrow night or to-morrow morning for Newport for this purpose. Mr. Brewster is now there, and he will direct its publication at the proper time.'"

OBADIAH HUSE.

The Character of a Venerable Minister Overhauled in a Libel Suit.

Damaging Testimony Elicited Against Him.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The trial of the suit of the Rev. Obadiah Huse against John A. Childs, proprietor of The Evanston Index, for $5,000 damages for alleged libel, was begun before Judge Gary yesterday afternoon. The complaint charges the publication in The Index in October, 1881, of an article copied from The Chicago Times purporting to be a synopsis of a bill in chancery filed in the Circuit court by the Woman's Educational Aid association of Evanston against Huse to recover a sum of money belonging to the association, which Huse, it was claimed, had appropriated to his own use. Childs, the defendant, was put on the stand by the attorney for the plaintiff and admitted the publication of the article in his paper. Huse then testified in his own behalf that he was 80 years old, had lived in Evanston twenty-six years, and had been an itinerant preacher for twenty-five years, and a local preacher in the Methodist Episcopal church for seventeen years, and every year for the past twenty years had assisted some young person in getting an education.

The defense introduced Dr. L. P. Hamline, A. N. Young, Rev. Dr. R. M. Hatfield, George W. Muir and George O. Ide as witnesses to prove the previous bad reputation of the plaintiff. Pressed by the counsel for the plaintiff to tell who they had heard speak against Huse, these witnesses recited a number of damaging statements, among them the following: Simeon Farwell said that Huse owed the university $10,000, which he secured by collaterals, and that he borrowed the collaterals and never returned them; also that Huse sold a lot to the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad company for the Woman's College cottage association for $3,500, and paid over to the association only $1,000, keeping the balance for his own use. William Dearing had said that Huse borrowed money from servant girls and poor people right and left, and never paid it back. Miss Frances E. Willard loaned $400 to Huse on his note, but on applying to him for security he gave her a mortgage on a lot in Wilmette. She sold the lot and afterward found that Huse had never owned the ground. When brought to task Huse gave her a deed for another lot, which, while worth $300, was found to have $10,000 worth of judgments against it.

H. G. Lunt, an attorney residing at Evanston, had heard L. J. Gage say something derogatory about Huse's financial transactions. Mr. Ide told the witness that Huse was a liar. Mr. John Hamline told witness that Huse was guilty of criminal dishonesty. Mrs. Potter had informed the witness that Huse had taken advantage of her position as a stranger and had taken her money without giving her adequate security, and his whole actions in the matter were dishonorable.

Charles F. Gray, president of the Hide and Leather National bank of Evanston, said that Huse's general reputation was bad, but could not remember the names of any person whom he had heard speak aught against him.

Mrs. Emily M. Clifford had heard Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Leander Clifford, Miss Pingree, Mrs. Fitch, Mrs. Allen, Mr. Ide, and most of her acquaintances speak unfavorably of Mr. Huse. Mrs. Pearson had said it was bad for the church that a man holding the position Mr. Huse did should do as he had done. Mrs. Leander Clifford said it was bad for the cause of religion for Mr. Huse to borrow from so many widows and not pay. Miss Pingree had said it was the greatest trial her religious faith had ever had to see a man profess so much and do so many bad things. Mr. George O. Ide had told witness that Mr. Huse was the biggest old scoundrel he had ever known.

Mr. L. J. Gage was called, but was not prepared to say what the plaintiff's general reputation was when he removed from Evanston two years ago.

Mrs. Mary F. Haskins, of Evanston, testified to having heard Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Potter, Mrs. Farwell, and others, speak of Mr. Huse as not dealing justly with those with whom he had dealings.

D. V. Dewey, of Beveridge & Dewey, bankers, of Evanston, testified that Mr. Huse's reputation was decidedly bad. He recited a number of cases of Mr. Huse's turpitude which had been told him. Mrs. Farwell had told him of Huse's management of the affairs of the Woman's College cottage, and spoken of him as a defaulter. Mr. Dewey said that Mrs. Burns, a washerwoman, told him she had loaned $200 to Huse and he had refused to pay it back.

John A. Childs, the defendant, testified that he copied the article as a matter of news and was not actuated by malice or hatred.

The defense then rested and the plaintiff began the introduction of the rebutting evidence. James Curry, justice of the peace at Evanston, testified that the general reputation of the plaintiff was good. He had loaned him money without security, and had always been repaid, with interest. Cross-examined, he said that he had heard Mr. Huse's reputation discussed, but he had always defended him. He had frequently found it necessary to do so. The people who talked against Mr. Huse were mostly church gossips. Witness had once been a member of the Methodist faith, and it was an honorable church in that day, but it now had too many hypocrites and Judas Iscariots in it, and he had drawn away from it.

The Prince of Wales.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The prince of Wales has taken three weeks of mineral water and rest at Homburg, drinking from the nauseous spring with scrupulous regularity, keeping early hours, and eating plain food, in order to get over the effects of London high living. He is now in Scotland for a month of highland air, and it is hoped that he will be in satisfactory condition for the hunting season. After that will come some arduous public duties, as presiding on corner-stone occasions and at dinners.

Ex-Empress Eugenie Disgusted with England.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The ex-Empress Eugenie has bought a chauteau and park in Syria for $300,000, and it is no secret that she quits England in anger at the attentions shown to Cetywayo, whom she hates for the death of her son in Africa.

Swinburne and Huxley.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Swinburne has decided to give readings in the principal cities of this country, probably in the latter part of next winter; and Prof. Huxley is said to be considering an offer of $500 apiece for lectures here during 1883 and 1884.

MANITOWOC, Wis., Sept. 28.—George Rathsock, who killed his wife by burying an ax in her head, confessed his crime to-day. Rathsock sat before his wife and sharpened an ax to kill her, telling her that when it was sharp enough, he should take her life with it.

"MARRIAGE INSURANCE."

The New Craze and Swindle that is Running Through the Country.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The Tribune says: The most recent device for encouraging fools to waste their money is the "Marriage Insurance Company." Scarce a year ago southern and southwestern states were vexed by a demoralizing perversion of life insurance, under which unscrupulous companies invited any and everybody to take out policies on the lives of the aged and the sick. No sooner has this nuisance been partially suppressed than the same parties or others of like disposition have developed an insurance against completion of marriage engagements. Their offer, as described in our country exchanges, invites anyone who knows of an engagement having been formed to take out a policy insuring him against the wedding. The applicant pays a premium and the company engages that, provided the engaged parties do not marry within some short period, say five months from date, they will not marry at all. Obviously no honest interest is conserved, no public advantage promoted; it is a mere bet on the fickleness of lovers. Pressed with a question how they can afford to make such promises, the insuring parties avow that so many long engagements are broken off from one cause or another and come to nothing that the premiums received where the insurers win are enough to defray all policies on which they lose and leave a profit. Of course this is preposterous. The real design, doubtless, is to rake in as many premiums as the folly of the neighborhood can be made to yield, and abscond with them before many policies mature. There is no legal sanction for an insurance of this kind, nor have "policy holders" any guarantee or protection that "losses" would be paid. Probably the law would scout such contracts as "contrary to public policy." However this may be, there is little hope that responsible defendants will be found when the time for collecting comes. The sooner the local authorities puncture such swindles the better.

THE FORD BOYS.

Their Fears of Vengeance.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The Ford brothers, the slayers of Jesse James, are on exhibition at Barnum's museum in Brooklyn. They claim that on Tuesday the wife of Frank James, the brother of Jesse, visited the museum, stared at them, and then, after looking at the other curiosities, left the building, entered a cab, and was driven rapidly away. They assert that they recognized Mrs. James, although she wore a thick veil, and that her visit to the museum was intended as a reminder to them that Frank James had threatened to kill them for murdering his brother. Charles Ford said to a World reporter to-night: "I notice everyone that comes in here, for when a man has sworn to kill you you must keep your eyes always open, and in a city like this you don't get a chance to cock a revolver before you go down. I saw among the people that entered a heavily veiled woman dressed in deep mourning. She walked up to our platform and looked at Bob and me. Her actions attracted my attention. She looked at the curiosities for a few minutes and then returned to where Bob and I were, folded her arms, and looked squarely at us. I knew immediately that she was Frank James' wife, and I told Bob about it. You can imagine how he felt thinking perhaps Frank was hanging around, and me without a pistol. Bob jumped off the platform and went to the manager's office. Mr. Bates only laughed, but just then Mrs. James passed out of the door. Bob said he was going to follow her, and Bates said he would go with him. Mrs. James passed by the window that opens onto our platform, and looked in. Then a carriage drove up and she sprang into it and was driven away.

DEFYING CONGRESS.

The Mormons Openly Refusing to Allow Gov. Murray's Appointees to Act.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept. 28.—Gov. Murray, in obedience to the law of Congress providing for appointments to fill the vacancies occasioned by a failure to hold an election in August, has appointed a number of officials throughout Utah. In defiance of this law and of the Edmunds bill, which disqualifies polygamists, the appointees of the governor have been refused the records and places to which they have been appointed. This organized nullification is in obedience to orders of the Mormon leaders. Those who think it criminal to hold over are whipped in by the council and threats, and polygamists are holding on, congress to the contrary. Writs of mandamus were applied for to-day to enforce the title of the officials appointed. The action of Gov. Murray in firmly executing the law, in the face of the Mormon leaders, is approved by all the law-abiding people.

A RUNAWAY BALLOON.

Prof. Allen's Involuntary Trip in His Air-Ship Comes to a Very Fortunate Ending.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 28.—Prof. Allen, of Providence, R. I., made an involuntary balloon ascension from Milford, near Boston, yesterday. An ascension was to have been made in connection with other features of attraction for the county fair, and the balloon was nearly filled and ready to be slipped. Prof. Allen stepped into the basket to arrange it for his trip, when, from some unexplained cause, the air-ship got loose from its fastenings and sailed away with the professor in it, greatly to his astonishment and the amusement of those who were assisting him. The balloon had no anchor, its valves were not in proper working order, and fears were felt that the aeronaut would meet with some serious accident. Taking a southwesterly course the balloon passed over East Douglass, Mass., and when last heard from had landed near Pomfret, Conn., without serious damage to it or injury to Prof. Allen, who will return at once to Milford and make the ascension as he originally proposed to do.

The Follett Failure.

NEW YORK, Sept. 88.—Alonzo Follett, the note-broker, is ill. The impression is gaining ground that Follett's liabilities, generally fixed at about $500,000, have been under-estimated. He has, it is understood, not only done what amounted to the banking business of some of his customers, but has been the banker of several of his friends some of whom are now liable to lose considerable amounts. The paper held by the Manhattan bank as collateral for loan of $100,000 to Follett, was not put up at auction today. The sale has been indefinitely postponed, in order to allow the owners of the paper to redeem it. A considerable part has already been redeemed. The claim of Richardson, Boynton & Co. against Follett, which was sent to the sheriff at Bloomington, Ill., to place upon the interest of Mr. Follett in the nursery there carried on by Tuttle & Folletts, amounts to $33,477.

Neyman, of New York; Miss Phoebe Couzins, of St. Louis; Mrs. Shattuck, of Boston; Miss Foster, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Colby, of Nebraska, will speak until election.

YOUNG AMERICA FAIR.

The Award of Premiums—The Address by O. H. Fethers—A Successful Fair.

The seventh annual fair of the Young America Agricultural Society was held on Wednesday Thursday, and Friday, September 20, 21, and 22, on the farm of George Cleland, in the town of Center. Brieflets

—The City Council will hold an adjourned meeting to-night.

—Quite a large party went to Elkhorn to-day, to attend the Walworth County fair.

—It is to be hoped that the present magnificent weather will continue through next week.

—An old man named Thomas Main, with a fondness for whisky, was sent to the Poor House, by Judge Patten to-day.

—The demonstration at Lappin's Music Hall to-morrow night, should be a grand one. All Republicans should attend.

—Mrs. E. L. Scott leaves for Rockford to-day to attend the 20th anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. James Williams of that city.

—Work on the new cotton factory is being vigorously prosecuted. A large number of teams are kept constantly at work, and everything promises a speedy completion.

—The thermometer at 7 a. m. to-day registered 52 degrees above zero, and at 1 p. m. 66 degrees above. For the corresponding hours last year the figures were 48 and 64 degrees above.

—The Milwaukee bicyclists who will contribute to the attractions of the Rock county fair will arrive here Tuesday night, and be received by a committee of citizens headed by the Bower City band.

—The Bower City Rifles give their first dance of the season at their armory to-night, Anderson's orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music, and arrangements have been made to make it pleasant for all who attend.

—It now appears that the Young Men's Association library is not to be sacrificed An organization of ladies has been formed to take control of it, and in such hands, instead of deteriorating, the library will receive additions, and be placed on a creditable basis.

—A little short-lived excitement was created on West Milwaukee street yesterday afternoon, by a pugilistic encounter between two belligerent men, neither of whom displayed much science. The fight was soon interrupted, without either combatant receiving much punishment.

—The best amateur talent, both musical and dramatic, in the city will contribute to make the farewell concert to Prof. Titcomb, the finest amateur entertainment ever given in Janesville. Prof. Titcomb deserves a handsome testimonial and he will receive it. Tickets are being disposed of rapidly, and already a fine house has been secured.

—The two "Faust" entertainments given by the young ladies and gentlemen of Janesville netted a very handsome profit, ($107.60) which will be devoted to a public library fund. The money is now on deposit in the Rock county bank, waiting for a committee, who will assume control of the matter and invest it for the benefit of the public library.

—A telegram was received here to-day by Mr. Clarence L. Clark from Gen. Bintliff, announcing the death at Depere last night of J. Will Bintliff. The young man had been ill for sometime, but hopes of his recovery were entertained up to his last hour. The remains will be brought here next Saturday, for interment Due notice of the funeral will be given.

—Mr. W. H. Parish, of Stoughton, and Miss Hattie E. Graves, of Cooksville, were married, yesterday afternoon, at the residence of Mr. J Bleasdale, in the Fifth ward of this city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Hodge. The guests included several intimate friends from abroad. The happy couple left, last evening, for a short bridal tour in Wisconsin and Minnesota.

—The annual inspection of the militia companies in Janesville will take place to-night. Adjutant General Chapman is the inspecting officer and the members of the companies propose to show him the excellency of their discipline. Every member should be present, as the amount of money contributed by the state, for a uniform fund, is dependent on the number of men present at inspection.

—Mr. Peter Myers, was arrested today on a warrant sworn out by Mary Mulcahy, one of the Myers house help, charging him with assault and battery. Mr. Myers said he simply snatched a new broom from her hands, which she was using in preference to an old one. The girl was not hurt at all, but said, her employer struck her with the broom. The trial of the case was postponed until 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

—The campaign is opening with a boom, and promises to prove intesting and exciting. To-morrow night, the first mass meeting of the campaign will be held here, and a big time is anticipated. Several speakers will address the meeting, prominent among whom will be ex-Governor Fairchild, of Madison. A band of music will serve to further enthuse the large crowd who will undoubtedly be present.

—The lecture on "Egypt," delivered by Prof. Hoisington, at Cannon's hall, last night, was a very entertaining discourse, and was thoroughly enjoyed by those present. The lecturer expressed his thoughts in a pleasing conversational way, which enhanced the charm of his descriptions of the wonders of the far away land, so replete with interesting history and tradition. The audience was not as large as it should have been, and it is to be hoped that the succeeding lectures of the series will be better attended.

—The Hon. John Winans, the candidate for Congress of the Delavan and Elkhorn conventions, was serenaded at his residence last evening by a large number of supporters. The Bower City band discoursed some inspiriting airs, and the crowd cheered lustily when Mr. Winans made his appearance, and addressed them in well chosen terms, thanking them for the compliment paid him. Mr. E. M. Hyzer responded to frequent calls, and delivered an encouraging address.

☐—The ladies should remember that it does not make any difference what style of cake they make for entry into the competitive display originated by C. E. Andrews & Co., provided Andrew's Pearl Baking Powder is used in the composition. The premium offered for the best cake is $30, a handsome reward for the labor required. Mr. W. H. Boyd, the agent of C. E. Andrews & Co., has added two other prizes, the first of $10 and the second of $5, for young ladies under 15 years of age, who contribute the best delicate cake. An emulous spirit has been excited and the judges will be surfeited with cake, as every one will have to be tasted.

Some Old-Time Pieces of Art.

When Mr. C. S. Jackman was in California recently, he secured three oil paintings, to which is attached considerable interest on account of their age, and the purposes to which they have been consecrated. While in Lower California visiting his brother, Mr. Fred Jackman, he paid a visit to the old Jesuit Missions, established a hundred and fifty or two hundred years ago, and in the churches which had been abandoned and were fast going into ruin by the work of time, were some paintings, three of which he brought home. The largest, from the Jesuit Mission of San Ignatia, represents one of the brotherhood holding a child in his arms, before the altar, on which lies a prayer book. Of course time has made its ravages with the colors, but the faces of the Jesuit and the child seem exceedingly fresh, and give unmistakable signs that an artist of more than ordinary skill used the brush. Another picture not so large as the one we have just described, comes from the Mission of San Raiga and represents a Madonna and child, with two priests at her feet. This is the best preserved of the three but is not so high in artistic merit as the large one. The third is said to be upwards of two hundred years old and is a portrait, and comes from the Mission of San Francis de Borgia. It is claimed to be a portrait of the priest who established the mission. This has suffered more from the weight of years than either of others, but still the face can be plainly seen.

These are rare historic specimens of religious art, and are supposed to have been brought from Europe when the Missions were established. At all events, these are interesting relics from their age and sacred associations. Mr. Jackman justly feels proud over his conquests, and takes delight in exhibiting them to his friends.

Ladies in the Saddle.

The Republican-Sentinel contains the following description of the equestrienne race which occurred in Milwaukee yesterday, and in which Mrs. Hemming of Janesville was one of the contestants.

It was after 5 o'clock when the equestriennes were called for their five-mile spin. Two responded, one being Miss Williams, of Nebraska, and the other Mrs. Hemming, of Janesville. Miss Williams was much the lighter in weight, a big point in her favor. She was dressed tastily with a blue jacket, dark, skirt and blue cap. Mrs. Hemming wore black throughout. Each had five horses, those to be mounted by Miss Williams being the best in limb and condition. Some few pools were sold at $10 on Miss Williams, and $7 on Mrs. Hemming, but they did not go rapidly. Miss Williams drew the pole, and they got off in good shape, she riding a slim chestnut, and Mrs. Hemming a dark bay. Before a half-mile had been run, the chestnut was leading several lengths, the bay looking across the field as though he was quitting. The first mile was made by Miss Williams in 2:06, her rival ten lengths after.

Both changed horses for the next turn, Miss Williams getting away before the Janesville equestrienne was in her saddle, and gaining a full quarter of a mile by so doing. Mrs. Hemming was fortunate in having a better animal than the first, her mount being a nimble little black fellow, who dug like a deer when given his head. Miss Williams had a bay on this turn that ran heavy, letting the black reduce the gap to a few yards when ending the second mile, made by Miss Williams in 2:36. In this shift Janesville had the advantage and kept it to the half-mile post, when Miss Williams on another chestnut gave her the go-by, and set the pace again, winning the third mile in 2:35. Neither changed for the fourth mile, Miss Williams having a flyer that started on the second round as fresh as the first, without the shadow of a halt, while Mrs. Hemming did not pull up, although her horse evidently would have preferred something of that kind.

Miss Williams drew away fast, coming into the flat a furlong ahead, and kicking up a cloud of dust that quite obscured her follower. The dust settled so that the head of the stretch could be seen, as the blue jacket flashed by the stand for her fifth and last mile, the fourth having been run in 2:03, and as the yellow curtain sank Mrs. Hemming could be discovered with her horse braced up against the outside fence. Her grooms ran up, only to find the stirrup strap broken, and met Miss Williams just finishing the final mile, made in 2:12. The time for the five miles was 11:22½. Mrs. Hemming was much chagrined at her unfortunate ending, and will perhaps invite the winner to ride the match over again before the close of the meeting.

Caught in a Trap.

The Chicago Times of to-day has the following in regard to some arrests made by Postoffice Inspector Dug King of this city and another officer:

Post office Inspectors King and Baker arrested Harvey B. Thompson at Osborn Mo., on Sept. 9 on the charge of embezzling a letter from the Janesville, Wis., post office, May 12, directed to Harvey Thomas, and containing a draft for $80 from the State treasurer for wolf bounty Thompson was taken to Madison Wis., where he was held to bail in the sum of $500. The arrest was kept quiet, so as to secure his accomplice. After his arrest Thompson confessed to having forged Harvey Thomas' name to the draft, and stated that Joseph Wolf had drawn the money. On this confession Inspector King arrested Wolf at Walnut Bureau county, Ill., Tuesday night, and took him to Madison yesterday morning, where he will be committed for trial. Wolf and Thompson were in Janesville, and roomed together, and the latter claimed that Wolf advised him to forge the draft, which he did. He afterward sold it to Wolf for a pistol and a watch. Wolf kept the paper for several weeks and after his accomplice had left the town, asked C. W. Taylor a teacher in the school, to identify him at the bank, or to sign his name on the draft. The school master signed his name under the forged name of Harvey Thomas, and Wolf presented the draft at the Rock County National bank, at Janesville, and obtained the money. The draft was finally called for at the postoffice by Harvey Thomas, the rightful payee, who, upon investigation, found that the money had been drawn. The matter was at once placed in the hands of the postoffice officials with the result as above stated.
